AHS presenting 'Bandshow 1977'

ALBANY — "Bandshow-1977" will be presented by the Albany High School Band Friday evening at 7:30 in the school gymnasium.

"This musical program is fast-paced and lively and will have a little something for everyone," Ernest Douglas, the Band's director since 1952, predicted. "We'll have marches, a concert overture, show tunes, marching, dancing, and a little surprise at the end."

Featured selections will include a trio made up of senior trumpeters Mark Ng, Eric Jackson and Andy Mayeda; and an ensemble of percussion instruments directed by junior Derek Ritchie.

The Band's Flag Girls, led by Karen Seegmiller, will do an intricate dance routine to the spiritual "Joshua" and, together with drum major Andris Sinats, will lead the entire band in a lights-out marching number titled "Fever."

Flag girls are Alyce Chamberlain, Gail T. WISS, Tia Miyamoto, Leila Kadhim, and Eileen Nishifue.

The Albany Jazz Ensemble, conducted by senior Charlie Tronoff, will play the Les Hooper composition "Bunch of Blues" and a special arrangement of "Double Fault Blues" by Tronoff. Soloists will include Eric

The Band will also play the Overture to "The Barber of Seville" by Rossini and selections from the popular hit musical "The Wiz," with solos by Mark Ng, Randy Westbrook and Mike Fellows.

Preceding the high school band's program, the Albany Middle School Jazz Band will play a short set of jazz arrangements at 7:30, conducted by Bob Slous.

Following the concert the Albany High School Band Boosters will give a short reception for Band members and their guests in the high school cafeteria.

"Bandshow-1977" is open to the public. There is no charge.

Object to blocking left turns

ALBANY — Local business people are fighting proposed raised center medians for the future San Pablo Avenue, since customers would be unable to conveniently turn left into business and office drive-ways.

Instead, they want painted medians, with intermediate double lines, allowing drivers to turn left, moving in both directions, with "stacking" lanes for left turns at the end of each block.

The Albany City Council Monday night instructed staff to prepare conceptual plans for two alternatives — one with the raised medians and the other with the painted medians and intermittent double lines.

Both plans will be submitted to the committee which formerly considered the business license tax, and a recommendation will be made to the council.

Objections to raised medians were voiced Monday night by Bill Lacy, president of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, Hal Denham, Chamber manager, and William Garren, Chamber spokesman.

Actually, Public Works Director Robert Guletz had submitted six plans to the council, some of them with raised medians, others not.

Guletz explained that the federal aid urban program could provide up to $500,000

Looking to the past for a glimpse of the future

ALBANY — An attempt to chart the course of civilization for the next two centuries, by adopting a technique inaugurated at least 2,800 years ago, is being considered by Albany's civic leaders.

The "town meeting program," devised or revived by the Chicago based Institute of Public Affairs (IPA), would be sponsored locally by the Peralta Community College under the school's "Non-Traditional Studies" division, according to Albany School Superintendent Charles McCully.

Preliminary plans for the session have been endorsed by the Albany Chamber of Commerce, the Albany City Council, the Ministerial Association and the Albany Unified School District.

"Our current plan is to bring all elements of the community together in a series of meetings to be held on a Saturday, probably in the latter part of May," the superintendent said.

"It is an excellent method of allowing local citizens to effectively participate in the long-range, decision-making processes of local government."

The Greeks thought so, too. As far back as Solon's incumbency, the town meetings were considered the quintessence of the democracy, even during a period when some Greeks — Pericles and Aristotle among them — were expressing doubts about the operations of the city-states.

About 2,400 years before Water-gate, Socrates decided that no city-state with a population of more than 5,000 could maintain a democracy. And in the 20th century Winston Churchill, looking back over democracy's long and turbulent record, termed the system "the worst form of government, except for all the others that have been tried."

All of which indicates that democracy can survive the slings and arrows of the experts, as long as it is concerned with the protection of the proletariat. Pericles grasped the significance of that fact, lamenting: "Athens is a democracy because its administration favors the many."

That breakdown of the constituency gives democracy high survival odds.

Those odds may be one of the factors stimulating a revival of the town meeting. The IPA has developed a format calling for citizen discussions of the challenges facing the community and the nation, and the views of the citizens on how effectively to meet these challenges.

The town meetings are being scheduled as one-day affairs involving 200 to 400 persons of all ages and backgrounds.

"Nearly 600 town meetings involving over 100,000 citizens were held nationwide during 1975 and '76," an IPA envoy estimated, "and we project that 5,000 more will be held across the nation by December of this year."

A California campaign, with a goal of 400 meetings this year, apparently is gaining wide-spread support. A hundred communities now are in the process of setting town meeting dates.

"Through these meetings, we hope to recapture something of the spirit of those early town conclaves which played such an important role in building this nation. The final work of the thousands of meetings will be compiled," McCully concluded, "and merged to create a new and practical vision of America's next two-hundred years."

Albany couple die in crash of jets

ALBANY — Commercial burglaries are on the rise in Albany, while there is a downward trend in murders, robberies and residential burglaries.

Police Chief James Simmons' 1976 report says that the city continues to be a "victim community" where 80 percent of those arrested live elsewhere.

However, there was a five percent jump in the number of local residents arrested over the previous years, he said.

There were 94 commercial burglaries last year, compared to 75 the previous year.

Albany police "cleared" 34 of them, which is 100 percent better than the national clearance rate for this offense, according to the report.

Many of the commercial burglaries occurred while the firms were open for business. Other leading factors included unlocked doors and windows.

The residential burglaries dropped from 139 in 1975 to 123 in 1976.

Robberies dropped from 57 to 51.

There was one murder.

ALBANY — Two mysterious store blazes that flared in a 24-hour period on Solano Avenue, and what investigators described as a "rash of car fires" in the same area during the past several days, have precipitated a probe by the Albany and Berkeley Fire Departments.

SAN PABLO AVE. MEDIANS

The boost in federal funding had led staff to expand its planning from the original painted medians costing about $250,000 to more elaborate designs including raised medians with shrubs, trees and irrigation.

Due to the objections, the possibilities were narrowed to two proposals with the raised median alternative costing about $394,000, including median planting of shrubs and trees.

All plans call for two 11-foot lanes in each direction, and a center median 14 feet wide, plus parking lanes on each side eight feet wide. This would eliminate one lane in each direction, but add the center median with provision for left-turn stacking lanes at the end of each block.

Garren's objections to the raised median included his "understanding" that the city had been committed to a flat median as a result of earlier general plan deliberations.

City Administrator James Turner admitted that reference to raised medians was eliminated in general plan documents, but this did not commit the city against raised medians, he said.

Charles Silvera, manager of the Albany Mechanics Bank, warned against any "rash decision," urging that there be intermittent center double lines leaving a 14-foot space in the middle allowing cars to conveniently turn left.

Denham said many businesses could be hurt without the convenient access. Planted areas could be expensive to maintain, he said.

Others, including citizen Harry Styron, supported the raised medians, noting that they would be more attractive and would cause drivers to reduce speed, improving safety.

Administrator Turner noted that the city will contribute 20 percent of the total cost, with the money coming out of the gas tax fund.

Glare cut on GGF lights

ALBANY — An effective means has been found for reducing the glare from lights which will illuminate night harness racing at Golden Gate Fields.

This is the opinion of City Administrator James Turner who Monday night advised the city council to recognize compliance with "reasonable" light reduction, made possible by installation of external louvers on test lights.

The council approved the assurance to the Northern California Racing Association which plans to conduct night racing from July 14 to August 14, with perhaps more than $40,000 in additional tax revenues to the city. The council last week approved a use permit, subject to proper light conditions.

Turner told the council that the louvers installed had so reduced the glare to draw praise from homeowners near the track, especially Albany Hill.

While the council set another condition relating to traffic and parking, it appeared that later adjustments would be possible, if necessary, without endangering overall planning by the Racing Association.

The council also discussed limits on the Golden Gate Fields sign, allowing public-service and on-premise advertising. If non-compliance becomes a problem, the sign use permit could be revoked, commented Vice Mayor Pat

Griffin.

In other business, the council:

—Agreed that Griffin and Councilman Robert Luomas will meet with members of the Committee on Aging, working out details for spending $2,500 on a survey to determine needs relating to senior citizens and other groups.

—Set an April 11 public hearing on proposals that Cerrito and Washington Streets be one-way. The Traffic and Safety Commission favors the Cerrito plan, and opposes Washington as a one-way street.

—Expressed interest in obtaining more information about the possible development of a regional shopping center on University of California land, but stipulated that the city would not pursue the matter over the objections of the university.

—Approved two CETA maintenance vacancies, each paying $916 per month, with later such vacancies to be filled at $833 per month.

Albany schedules Times municipal projects

ALBANY — Projects to be undertaken by the City of Albany "between now and June," were listed today by City Administrator James Turner.

"We've scheduled work," Turner said, "in the following areas:"

(1) For senior citizens - conduct a needs survey, furnish home repair assistance, develop out-reach assistance and transportation facilities.

(2) Youth Activities - coordination and development of a wide range of youth activities.

(3) Cultural Enhancement - Develop a wide range of arts, crafts, and musical experiences which will broaden the cultural opportunities available for the enjoyment of Albany residents.

(4) Public works and community enhancement - a number of activities designed to improve the living circumstances in the community. These will include: clean-up and beautification of waterfront, hill and creek areas, sign ordinance implementation survey, conduct information programs for necessary current matters such as water and energy conservation, develop evaluation surveys designed to begin implementation of improvements for community living.

3 Persons 5,960
4 Persons 7,360

Additionally, applicants must be in one of the following categories:

Or

(B) Ineligible for unemployment compensation and has been unemployed for 15 or more weeks.

Or

(C) Exhausted unemployment compensation

Or

(D) Receiving Aid for Dependent Children Children funds.

These projects will require the participation of a broad spectrum of individuals who would be willing to work in part-time and full-time situations developing the means to meet important social needs which include human services and housing.

Albany residents who have skills in the areas described and who are actively seeking employment are encouraged to pick up and fill in employment applications at the Administrative office, City Hall. A selection process will then be undertaken to match individuals with the programs they have an interest in and where they would have the best opportunity to be gainfully employed.

Job applicants must meet the criteria indicated below in order to be considered.

CRASH

Eastern Star. They are survived by a son, Franklyn Jeans.

Fate spared an El Cerrito couple and a Walnut Creek man, in the fiery collision on Santa Cruz de Terrell, but took the lives of one of the men's wives, a former Berkeley school teacher, and a Contra Costa man who had been planning the trip for many months.

Also killed was Maurine Grimwood, 69, a former Berkeley resident and a retired teacher from the Peralta Junior College District. Mrs. Grimwood, who lived in the Watergate complex at Emeryville, taught English literature.

Richard and Mary Bowman of 922 Ashbury Ave., El Cerrito, and Edward Lamp of Walnut Creek survived the crash that killed 575 persons.

Lamp's wife Nancy was killed, along with Joe and Martha Jeans of Albany and Norman Reid, a stockbroker, of Lafayette.

Neighbors said Reid had been planning the trip since November.

Mrs. Bowman was first identified as dead. The error was cleared up when the Bowmans called their son Richard Drinnin.

Bowman is an employee of Andco Construction in San Leandro and Mrs. Bowman is director of admissions at Herrick Hospital.

Drinnin said his mother has burns on her legs and feet and his father a cracked rib and a broken leg.

U.S. doctors specializing in burns have been sent to the Canary Islands.

The Lamps, who have three grown children, two sons and a daughter, owned and raced horses at Golden Gate Fields as a hobby.

The condition of Lamp is unknown.

Mrs. Lamp, 64, joined the Berkeley Unified School District in 1938 and taught physical education at Berkeley High School and at Garfield and Burbank Junior High schools.

Her last assignment prior to resigning in 1975 was to teach math at Willard Junior High School. Concerned about young people, Mrs. Lamp sponsored many youth memberships in the Berkeley YMCA.

Mrs. Lamp was a graduate of Fremont High School and earned her B.A. in 1934 at the University of California Berkeley. She received her masters in 1950 from UC-Berkeley. Her majors were physical education and math; her minor, history.

Joe Jeans was a pipe smoker and it is likely the Jeans were seated in the smoking section of the Pan-Am jet.

Veterans of many cruises, the Jeans had planned to participate in a two week cruise as part of their charter flight.

UC's minority policies seem to please nobody

SACRAMENTO — The University of California doesn't seem to be able to please anyone with its policies toward minorities.

At the opening Assembly hearing March 23 on the UC budget, a legislator castigated the university for not doing enough for minorities. Two hours later, at the first Senate hearing, another legislator said UC was doing too much.

"You say you care, but you don't seem to show it in what you do," said Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, contending a proposal to toughen UC admissions standards would hurt minorities.

"Your affirmative action programs... are not only destroying colleges, they're destroying the business of this country," said Sen. Lou Cusanovich, R-Woodland Hills.

He said some of his constituents tell him, "We can't make it (into the university); we're the wrong color."

The criticisms mirrored attacks being made outside the legislature on the university's efforts to give preferential treatment to groups like blacks and Mexican-Americans, whose numbers among students and faculty are far below their proportion of the population.

UC is appealing a state Supreme Court ruling that one special admissions program discriminated against a white medical school applicant who was denied admission.

Many minority groups, long critical of UC's programs, have accused the university of making a half-hearted defense of the programs in its legal case.

Two-day carnival

BERKELEY — The third annual Spring Carnival will be held on the campus of St. Mary's College High School, Berkeley, on Saturday from noon to 10 p.m., and Sunday, from noon to 8.

"Games of skill, a cake booth, a hand-crafts booth, and bingo are among the many features. A snack bar will provide refreshments throughout the day and evening. Prizes to be awarded include a 1977 Volkswagen Rabbit and a color television," Norma Gray, publicity chairman, said today.

Proceeds from the event, sponsored by St. Mary's Parents' Association and St. Mary's Athletic Association, will benefit the school's development fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Benjamin and Mr. and Mrs. Tully Bowman are co-chairmen of the event.

'VICTIM'

(Continued from Page 1) last year, occurring on the night of Nov. 27. Victim was Ms. Florence Wolf, an elderly person who was robbed and beaten fatally at Kains and Dartmouth streets. No arrests have been made, and the police investigation is continuing.

In 1975, there were two murders, both of them cleared by arrests and convictions.

The report listed nine cases of rape, assault with intent to rape or sex perversion, with some of them a combination of offenses. Most of these cases led to arrests.

The condition of Lamp is unknown.

Hometown news

For those who think protesting Washington is jousting with windmills, Albany Realtor Jerome Blank with assistance kayaking at least one Quixote fan.

Jerome, as president of the California Association of Realtors, was among the group meeting with legislative committee of the National Association of Realtors (NAR), last week to protest several measures going before Congress. The Common Situs bill, which would allow a building subcontractor to strike a and, in a "secondary boycott" action, force other unions to strike, was one of the bills Realtors unanimously opposed.

After some discussion with legislators, Jerome returned to Albany, last Wednesday evening, and learned on his arrival that measure had been defeated in Congress.

"We also expressed our opposition to other measures," Blank said, "in discussions with Ron Dellums' legislative assistant John Apperson, and Rep. Forney Stark." (real estate) industry also would appreciate some clarification and several amendments to the flood plain bill. This measure requires insurance in many areas which are threatened by floods.

"And none of us cared for some of the regulations in the Clean Water Act which would classify all streams and creeks as navigable waters. This would require any construction lands adjacent to any stream or creek, be authorized by federal permit.

"Another measure we cannot see is ERT proposal to have any shopping center, to which people must drive, built only under a federal permit. The idea, obviously, is to eliminate pollution. We're for clean air, but we think pollution caused by cars should be eliminated at the source — not at a shopping center."

"We were briefed on these measures by legislative advocate, Al Abraham, before discussing them with the legislators.

"Senator William Proxmire, chairman of the House Banking Committee, conducted question-and-answer session for us on Tuesday. And Alan Cranston, the Senate Whip, also discussed measures affecting the industry with

"On the lighter side, we attended a reception for HUD's new director, Patricia Harris, and had the opportunity of meeting her assistant, Chester McGuire of Berkeley. McGuire, a director of the AC Transit District, teaches city planning at the University of California. He'll administer the affirmative marketing program of HUD which our association and the Berkeley Board of Realtors has endorsed," Blank concluded.

The Realty envoys appeared satisfied with the mission and several local taxpayers expressed their gratification with the cap-jousting that took some costly wind out of Congressional mill.

Three members of Albany Chapter 20 American Association of Retired Persons, who honored recently, for their services in the 1976-77 Spring Workshop project. The honorees are Elsie Pirie, Isabelle Angus and Mary Marcollo.

The Albany Chapter, at a recent dinner party, had as honored guests Marietta Pereira, Janis Mulhall, Isabelle Betten and Samuel Dows (Ret.). The four were lauded for their services as members of "various committees and commissions."

The Albany Park and Recreation Department's 41st annual Easter Egg Hunt will be held on April 9. Hunts will be held at Memorial Terrace and University Parks. Memorial Terrace hunts will be held for children 10 years and under and at University Park the grouping will be for children six and under. Hunts will start at 10 a.m. In the event of eggs and candy will be given out at all parks.

During Easter Vacation, Memorial Terrace Parks will be supervised from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. while University Park will be supervised from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Regular playground activities along with special Easter programs will be featured at each park.

Recreation Department sets excursion to Marine World

ALBANY — The Albany Parks and Recreation Department now has openings for an excursion to Marine World Africa U.S.A. on April 6th. Transportation will be provided by a chartered A. C. A fee of $5 includes transportation, entrance fee, insurance and unlimited use of all shows and exhibits. Children interested "must bring a bag lunch sweater or coat."

Permission slips and money must be turned into the Albany Park & Recreation office, 1000 San Pablo Ave., by Friday. Permission slips are available at the Recreation Office, Memorial Park, Terrace Park or directors on the school playgrounds in the

Albany businessman named to Humane Society board

ALBANY — Appointment of Gregory D. Watty and Frank Cook to the board of directors of the Berkeley East Bay Humane Society, was announced by Robert D. McCurdy, president and Berkeley resident.

"During this 50th year of the society's service for the welfare, care, and treatment of animals, the board anticipates new growth and progress in providing the best possible care for companion animals in the East Bay."

"For this reason, we are turning upon the talents of capable individuals in the community to fill vacancies on the board. Our directors serve in a volunteer capacity, dedicated to helping the society in its endeavors to educate the public in humane practices and to provide low cost care and treatment for animals," McCurdy said.

Cook is an independent underwriter for New York Life Insurance Company, and maintains offices in Emeryville. A Berkeley resident since 1943, Cook said that he accepted the appointment to the society board because he has long been interested in humane, civic, and community activities.

He has been involved with the board of directors of the Berkeley YMCA since 1949 and also served for seven years on the City of Berkeley's Human Welfare Commission.

An active member of the McGree Avenue Baptist Church since 1943, Cook serves on the board of deacons, teaches a new members class, and sings in two music groups. ## Temporary BART tax permanent?

SACRAMENTO — Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy wants the temporary half-cent sales tax used to help fund the Bay Area Rapid Transit District extended indefinitely.

The San Francisco Democrat said recently that he would introduce legislation that would make that change, adding that he doubted that the tax could ever be dropped.

He told reporters it was a "gigantic lie" for BART backers to have suggested that the rail rapid transit system would one day be self-sufficient.

"That was an impossibility from inception," McCarthy said. "It was a bit of dishonesty that I don't think should be repeated."

The measure would require that 70 percent of the funds generated by the tax go directly to BART, which has been plagued by financial problems.

The rest would go to the Metropolitan Transit Commission, which could allocate it to BART, AC Transit or the San Francisco Municipal Railway.

The tax, which McCarthy says raises $47 million a year, is levied in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties, the three served by BART. It is scheduled to expire in June, 1978.

McCarthy said MTC would be required to use the funds as a "carrot to require the three transit systems to properly integrate schedules, fares, routes and transfers."

Also, funding from the sales tax would hinge on a requirement that the three transit operations get at least 35 percent of operating revenue from fares.

McCarthy said that could be done through better management practices.

Free income tax counselling is offered at Senior Center

ALBANY — A free tax counseling service will be offered from 9 a.m. to noon, Friday and Saturday, at the Albany Senior Center, 846 Masonic Ave. The counselors, sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons, are trained by the Internal Revenue Service, according to Col. Samuel R. Dows (Ret.), Albany coordinator.

"Under the new tax laws, everyone benefits from the 'tax credit'," Dows said. "The earned income credit for the elderly may or may not be of help. The alternatives and exceptions can be confusing. The larger 'standard deduction' benefits everyone."

"Persons desiring assistance must bring all necessary records of income and evidence to support deductions or credits. Tax aid counselors are not permitted to complete the tax returns, but assist with computations and interpretation of the laws."

"They (the counselors) check the returns to make certain the taxpayer is given the best tax breaks," Dows said, adding that "this will be the last opportunity to obtain the free service prior to the April 15 tax deadline."

YMCA launching 'Learn to Swim Water Safety Course'

OAKLAND — "Swimming is one of the finest of all exercises, bringing into play every important muscle in the body. Yet thousands of people — young and old — in Oakland are missing out because they don't know how to swim," John Rutherford, aquatic director, said today.

To enable more people to participate in this extremely healthful sport, the YMCA is launching a five-day Learn-To-Swim/Water Safety program on April 4.

"Swimming," John pointed out, "is good for the heart, good for the lungs, and especially good in relieving tension and stress, the scourge of modern life. What's more it's good for just about everybody. Even cardiac patients, under doctors' directions, may go swimming when other forms of exercise are denied them."

The YMCA course, which is taught by trained, fully certified instructors, is open to ages four to 11 years. John indicated that most participants are able to swim 20 feet safely after five days. Most, however, go on to more advanced instruction.

"With more and more people taking to the water in boats, the need for every member of the family to know how to swim is becoming imperative," John said. "Recent statistics indicate that drowning is now the third leading cause of accidental death in the United States. And the greatest increase in the past few years have been boat related."

John pointed out that in addition to its safety and health features, swimming can be sheer fun for the whole family. And it opens up a whole range of related activities such as skin diving and water skiing.

The Y brings to its aquatic program 70 years of experience, launching its learn-to-swim and water safety program back in 1906. "Millions of people have learned to swim this way," John said, "and nearly 900,000 being last year. The national goal for 1977 is 1,000,000 swimmers."

For information on current YMCA Learn-To-Swim/Water Safety program, he suggested calling the Y or 465-4272.

'Impound' battle is launched

SACRAMENTO — Home buyers who are required by their lenders to pay property taxes and insurance premiums in advance, would receive 5% per year interest for the use of their money, if the Legislature passes a bill introduced in the State Senate.

"Home buyers have long been the victims of banks' and savings and loan associations' power and greed," stated Senator John Holmdahl (D-Alameda County), in offering the bill.

"The lenders force their borrowers to lend to them — the lenders — money without interest. Then the lenders loan that same money to others, or possibly the same home buyers, for other loans at the going rate of interest."

"Last year, the Legislature passed a bill creating partial justice by requiring that 2% per year be paid on future loans requiring impound payments."

ALBANY — The California Association of Realtors has endorsed four of the five tax reforms proposed by Governor Brown, Jerome Blank, Albany Realtor, announced today.

The endorsements highlighted the quarterly meeting of the CAR's board of directors, held in Sacramento recently.

The mini-course will deal with money and consumer problems, health, employment, leisure-time activities, legal and estate planning, housing and living arrangements. Reference materials will be distributed and representatives from legal services, business groups and medical experts will also visit the class. Class input material will also be included.

Interested persons may sign up now through March 25 in Building A. Late registration and class sign-up for students taking Saturday Only classes will be on April 5, 1977 from 12:00 to 3:00 p.m. and 5:00 and 7:00 p.m. in the Registration Center. ## Realtors endorse four tax reforms

The element of the Governor's tax proposal, which was not endorsed by CAR, would involve a split assessment, sometimes called a differential tax rate. This is an element, Blank said, "which would treat residential property differently from all other properties for tax purposes."

"The Realtors' organization believes this is not essential, and, in effect, would be an abandonment of the principle of equal tax treatment, ignoring patterns of actual development of the state's economy."

"Additionally, CAR has endorsed concepts in AB 65 (Assemblyman Leroy Greene, D-Sacramento), which would utilize state surplus funds to revise the method of school financing in California. This measure seeks to establish a basis for financial support of education, consistent with the state contribution in conformity with the recent Serrano Supreme Court case through the use of state surplus funds."

"This concept would amount to $220 million the first year, to over $1 billion by the fifth year on a graduated basis. In effect, financial demands on local school districts, through property tax, would be reduced by more than $200 million in relation to previously accepted projections," Blank concluded.

Fertilizing garden during drought period

BERKELEY — Since many plants use more water when fertilized, gardeners may have more questions about the use of fertilizers and soil amendments in this dry year. Roy S. Rauschkolb, University of California soils specialist, has co-authored a question and answer leaflet primarily for people who are interested in learning what fertilizers and soil amendments are and how they should be used.

Titled "Organic and Inorganic Fertilizers and Soil Amendments," the Cooperative Extension leaflet explains how a fertilizer improves plant growth directly by feeding nutrients to the plant, while a soil amendment improves the condition of the soil and only indirectly improves plant growth.

Advantages and disadvantages of organic and inorganic amendments and fertilizers are given — the organic material being derived from plant and animal sources and the inorganic, often referred to as commercial fertilizer, coming from natural deposits.

Other questions answered in the free leaflet include such topics as the chemical make-up of fertilizers and soil amendments.

For a copy, send a postcard to Fertilizers, P.O. Box 1629, Richmond, California 94802.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

'Operation Water Conservation'

ALBANY — Camp Fire Girls throughout the San Francisco Bay Area recently celebrated their 67th Birthday by presenting the various communities with a water conservation project.

The five councils involved, extending from Dixon to San Mateo have joined with the water companies in these areas to promote water conservation in the homes, gardens and neighborhoods.

Members of Grizzly Peak Council have been working with Brian McCrea of E.B.M.U.D. and have developed a comprehensive program. During Camp Fire's Birthday "March 19th" members of the council took over the "Little House in El Cerrito Plaza" and transformed it into an attractive public information center on water conservation. At the side of the house was a mini garden of drought-resistant plants supplied by the Berkeley Horticulture.

There were demonstrations and exhibits of water-saving devices and pictures by the girls on water conservation.

The Camp Fire girls distributed free posters, pamphlets, buttons and bumper strips for the E.B.M.U.D. Those taking part in the project include Camp Fire Leaders: Barbara Price, Joanne Sherrick, Patsy Christner, Lorraine Penala, Merle Moreno, Kathy Leard, Lynn McBride and their Camp Fire groups.

The "Workers Alert to Water Awareness" Committee, known as WAWA include: Peg Tetlow, Lily

Robison, Jean Lavender, Mid Dornan, Virginia Miller and Barbara Robinson.

Albany Bowl

Riedlinger holds lead for O & R

By Phil Alston
ALBANY — By shooting his best series of the season when it was most needed, Les Riedlinger helped keep O & R Vending in first place in the 915 Major League at Albany Bowl with a 19 to 6 win over Nevada Tahoe Tours.

Riedlinger pitched games of 213-227-210, and Harold Johnson gave him excellent support with 225-619.

And it was just as well that the Venders won by substantial margin. The Full House team, knocked out of first place two weeks ago and obviously not relishing their second place status, surged over Diablo Bowling Supply 21 to 4 to cut O & R's advantage to 1½ points.

Once again Full House had three men above 600 with Paco Vasquez leading the way on games of 215-222-198 for 635. Al Ochoa had 603, Jack Jordan 602.

Merry Jax moved up to third place with a 19-6 decision over McCue Printing, thanks to John Taylor's 618 series and a 608 by Randy Felix.

Other noteworthy performances in the Majors included Art Lane's 212-237-201 for 650, Bill Johns 628, Marc Clyburn 626, Ralph Butler 635 and Ralph Holmes 615.

In the Majorettes League, Associated Coin Amusements survived position round play in good fashion by edging Urban Alternatives 12-10, thus expanding their lead to five points. Bobbie Hayes was top performer for the league leaders with 210-547. Thelma Chavrin had 532 for the Urbans.

Post Newspapers made a run at the leaders, moving into third place with a near skunking of O & R Vending, 21 to 1. Barbara Williams led the winners with 212-509.

Sue Howard was the league's leading scorer with 218 game and 577 series, both personal highs for the season. Closest to her was Theresa Talley at 223-566.

Bald Eagles, leaders in the 870 Commercial League, suffered a rare 3-0 shutout at the hands of Parkway Meats and found its margin over DeAngelo's Delicatessen reduced to 1½ games.

Weldon Miles, who came through with his best performance of the year—213-227-191 for 627—was the major contributor to Parkway Meats's success.

Scotty Cassell spiced action in the Nevada Tahoe Tours loop with 612, while Johnny Dixon was leading Friday Classic at 607. Lonnie Coleman's 223-589 topped Nite Owls, Craig Lacy had 577 for 660 Scratch and Eric Guice was best for Wednesday Scratch Trios on 573.

Darlene Taylor's 209-566 set the pace for the Ladies 630 Scratch, Albertha Stoudemire topped her 562 for Morrison Red with 218, Kay Schmidt whipped up a 556 set for Albany Eagles, took honors among Berkeley Firemen's Wives, and Inez Scrivner's 211-542.

Basketball League is expanding

ALBANY — Expanded rosters and team play mark this Spring's version of the Albany Park and Recreation Department's annual Men's Basketball League.

The Men's League, playing at 8 o'clock and 9:15 on Thursday evenings at the AHS gym, consists of four teams, the Community Center, the Colony, Ellis-Olson and the 76ers.

With a combination of new faces and sentimental favorites, the defending champions, Community Center, figure to be tough again. But, on the basis of recently concluded pre-season play, the other three teams seem geared for a highly competitive season.

The public is invited to view all the action, admission free, "in this popular and successful recreation program."

BERKELEY RESIDENTS: DO YOU WANT YOUR MAIL PROCESSED IN OAKLAND?

The U.S. Postal Service is currently planning to eliminate mail processing services in Berkeley. These services will be moved to Oakland in the near future. This means that all mail box collections will be taken to the Oakland main post office instead of to the Berkeley main office. And all Berkeley mail will be distributed for Berkeley letter carriers in Oakland, not Berkeley.

This service consolidation will mean delays in one day intra-city delivery. It will cause delays of local business mail. Berkeley mail will take a half an hour longer to get to the mail processing operation, and the mail will have to be delivered to Berkeley letter carriers a half an hour earlier. Additional tax subsidized labor will be needed. This consolidation will also mean that 80 or more full time Berkeley jobs will be moved to Oakland.

We are the postal clerks who process your mail. We don't want your service reduced. Berkeley has the only post office in the East Bay area which operates profitably. We want to keep it that way. Our union, the American Postal Workers Union, also opposes this consolidation. By the terms of our national contract, postal management is supposed to inform our union of service consolidations six months in advance. They have not done so.

We ask for your support. If you want to keep your present level of efficient mail service, and if you want to keep our jobs in Berkeley, then please help us by contacting your local city officials, your congressman, or the post office. Help us ask the postal service for the facts and the truth. Better public service is our goal.
